

MEET OUR NEW TRAINEES

BCA is continuing to invest in developing young talent and Adam Wood and Sophie Austin are the latest recruits to embark on training contracts as trainee management accountants.

Both join having previously gained experience in industry and will now work as members of operational teams based in BCA's Hull office from where they will be assisting in supporting SME clients across the country as well as working towards their professional qualifications.

The BCA Hull office teams support not only locally based businesses, but also clients of BCA's London and Leeds offices. These teams represent small but structured finance departments, each fulfilling the accounting and financial management requirements of a number of clients who use BCA's outsourced services.
